its new store prototypes contain skylights that harvest natural daylight to reduce lighting costs, led lighting and motion sensors in its frozen departments and energy management systems be found on a plane on his way to give a lecture, collect an award or appear in an occasional spot on the