Peter Wilson in Australia has built a mega on Philip Island.

One possible scenario is that GSK need to reserve so much for the Novartis put option that they have to cut the dividend.

It is impossible for long to continue producing commodities which find no consumers.

There are themes of faith, lost and held.

It is impossible for long to continue producing commodities which find no consumers.

Much of the cost in the healthcare system occurs when patients are least well-positioned to be informed, rational decision-making machines.
